Study Report

1. Introduction

This section introduces the study design and objectives.

The study was conducted in two phases over twelve months.

All participants provided written informed consent.

2. Methods

Randomisation used a block design with stratification.

Adverse events were recorded at every visit.